KIDNEY TRANSPLANT IN PATIENTS UNDER WARFARIN USE: DOES IT INCREASE THE RISKS? ANALYSIS OF OUTCOMES AND COMPLICATIONS

Felipe Bernardes*, Matheus Siqueira, Gustavo Ebaid, Gustavo Messi, Renato Falci, Kleiton Yamacake, Rafael Locali, William Nahas, and Affonso Piovesan  Sao Paulo, Brazil

• Retrospective study

• 15 patients with current OAT use at the time of the Renal Transplant.

• Indications for OAT:
  • Risk for thrombosis :r 9 (60%)
  • Atrial Fibrillation 6 (40%)

  • Reversion therapy - 12 patients (80%)
  • Vitamin K and fresh frozen plasma

• Results:
  • Surgical excessive bleeding requiring transfusion were observed in 7 (46.7%)
  • 02 deaths related to these complications.